British ships accept cargo

Two British ships are curaccepting cargo for Shanghai, according to wellinformed sources yesterday. They are the Jardine Matheson ship, as .Mausang and an mildentified Butterfield Swire merchantman.

Shanghal was closed to all shipping last month when two freighters blew up in the mouth of the Yangise presumably after striking Nationalist mines. . The Mausing is reported to be tentatively due to sail for Shanghal sometime today or tomorrow. Since President Truman's policy statement on the Far East restrict ing offensive strikes by the Chinese Nationalists against China' mainland, the only serious obstach which now concerns Hong Kong William, Cheong Siew-keong, Iu shippers is the threat of mines, which have been responsible for Objection to recordings taken by the police in the Silva-Tem case being admitted as evidence was raised by Mr. H. G. Sheldon, counsel for Mr. Marcus da Silva, at the third day hearing of the case yesterday.

He also objected to the playing of these recordings in open Court, which he said has no precedent, and it was the first time in the history of the British Empire that a recording was made, unknown to the person recorded.

His objections were overruled by the Magistrate, Mr. J. Reynolds, who said the recordings would be accepted as exhibits, and as for their admissibility as evidence this can be argued in the Supreme Court.

MITDIIT

Los Angeles, July 14. The Far East crisis caught the United States with its combat aircraft production rate far below what any official or private study has proposed even for peacetime.

According to the best estimates available here, planes are coming off the assembly lines at the rate of about 200 to 215 monthly. The comparable figure for May, 1941, six months before Pear. Harbour, was 1,350.

Some authorities believe that there should be a worldwide wa it would take a year to a year and a half to reach a point where plane production could offset combat losses. In 1949 the milltary, airframe weight produced was under 29,800,000 pounds, :

tion proposals on record the Congressional Aviation Policy Board said that the strength necessary to prevent the loss of a war requires an annual aircraft productlon of 63,000,000 pounds.

In one of the bluntest produc-were to be mounted immediately on the outbreak of war there should be annual production of 111,000,000 pounds.

One of the significant factors behind the 70-group Air Force and 14,500-plane Navy proposal was that these strengths would be able to withstand combat loss until the industry was geared to make them up. The Air Force today has 48 groups.

Based on World War II experience that combat losses in a general war can go as high as 25 per cent per month of the planes committed to action, the United States total of Air Force and Navy combat plenes now in active service is about 5,300 and the total of all types in storage and operational is about 30,000-United Press.

Efficiency aids productivity

By Herbert Tracey

On its way through the printing presses is a valuable report on findings reached by a specialist team of trade union officials who went to the United States to study the part played by the trade unions in helping to achieve and maintain the high average rates of productivity in industry.

It was known to trade unionists in Britain that unions across the Atlantic were co-operating with management on questions of production efficiency in a manner entirely unknown, or very little appreciated in the United Kingdom.

Radio components exhibition

Representatives from more than 20 countries attended the recent opening of the British Radio and Electronic Components Manufacturers exhibition at Grosvenor House, Park Lane, London. The general tendency of this exhibition is toward still further "miniaturisation" of components, particularly for car and aircraft radio and more compact television receivers. The latest developments of the modern electronic components were shown, some of which have played an important part in nuclear research and atomic energy development. The exhibition covered all the electronic fields, such as navigational, aids, sound reproduction and radio therapy. This picture shows a new television projecting screen. DULLES ON EFFORT TO PREVENT THE 'MURDER' OF SOUTHERN KOREA

Washington, July 4. The foreign affairs consultant, John Foster Dulles, tonight described the joint United Nations action in Korea as an operation to prevent the "international murder" of the Republic of Korea.

In an address at a local Independence Day celebration, Mr. Dulles, who feturned recently from a visit to Korea and Japan, declared: "The task undertaken is not a light one and before it is finished we shall all of us have to pay a price.

"The rest of us may have to cut down on our economic industries so that, out of our great productive capacity, we can help our friends to match the offensive power which the Soviet Union out of its economic poverty sup-plies to its friends."

Mr. Dulles told his listeners:

"We have today a great oppor-tunity to join with other free socioties to prove that unprovoked aggression does not pay. "If we sternly teach that lesson

"GIANT-KILLER" CHAMPIONSHIPS

Wimbledon, July 4. Two Americans, Budge Patty and Victor Seixas, an Australian, Frank Sodgman and Jaroslay Drobny, the self-exiled Czech who now plays for Egypt, today won their way into the semifinals of the men's singles in the All-England Lawn Tennis Championships.

One of the upsets of the day was the five-set victory of Seixas over Eric Sturgess, the South African Champion, by 9-7. 6-8, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Seeded No. 12, Seixas, play- fornian girl, Miss Dorothy Head, ing in his first Wimbledon, just by 6-3 and 6-2. scraped home after apparently nearing collapse in the late stages of the match. The 26year-old player, who has been playing tournament tennis since the age of 10, can now be regarded as the "giant-killer" of the Championships. He added the scalp of fourthseeded Sturgess to that faneled Australian, John wich, seeded No. 8, whom he defeated on Saturday.

Patty, pulled another surprise by toppling second-seeded Billy Talbert the leading American at Wimbledon, by 3-6, 6-4, 6-2

Patty, leading 5-2 in the third set when play began today after bad weather had interrupted the match last night, was always in command of Talbert.

The other semi-final will be between the favourite, Frank Sedsman, who is top-seeded, and Drobny, seeded No. 3, so whatever happens one American must play in the final.

Sedgman rallies

Sedgman had to fight hard to avoid another upset today at the hands of Art Larses, of the United States, Larsen led 10-8, 2-2 when and play resumed today and won the Barretto 6-0; beat Noronha and second set by 7-5 before Sedgman callied to win the last three 7-5, | 6-3 and 7-5.

The oaly match which went beat Abbas and Barretto 6-2; completely according to form was Mulloy (US) 6-3; 6-4, 6-4. Vie Drobny's straight set victory over Seixas (US) beat Eric Sturgesa the American, Gardner Mulloy. (South Africa) 9-7, 6-8, 3-6, 6-2, Drohny, who has not lost a set on 7-5. his relentless way into the semi-Craigengower the Kowloon Dock finals, crushed Mulloy by 6-3, 6-4 Club lost to their guests by nine and 6-4 with his cannonball ser- Quist (Australia) - beat Torsten

HK Women's Volunteer

Force put up good show History was made at Fanling on Saturday, July 1, when a team drawn from the Naval, Army and Air Branches of the Hong Kong Women's Volunteer Force challenged the Corporals of the Middlesex Regiment to a shoot on the 30 yard range at Beas Camp. Shooting with the 303 Service Rifle is not generally regarded as a women's sport, but the members of the HKWVF team showed that they had taken their coaching seriously when they succeeded in attaining 387 points against the more experienced Army team's score of 472 points.

Two practices were fired, Grouping and Application, which gave the visiting women's team a chance to settle down and recover on the Application shoot some of the ground they had lost nervousness in through Grouping Practice.

The match on Saturday was, the first occasion when the women of ly finished shooting before the seeded pair, John Bromwich and the Defence Force have ever fired Adrian Quist, of Australia, reach- in a competitive shoot, or indeed hurry unduly. ed the last eight by defeating in public.
